ALTERNATIVE LOAN PROGRAMS

- Eligibility for most of these loan programs is based on the creditworthiness of the borrower and may require a co-signer.
- A college education is recognized as an important investment, and the expense can be financed. If a family is not eligible for sufficient need-based financial assistance or chooses not to apply, these programs offer alternate resources. If your family received financial assistance but wishes to finance all or part of your remaining cost of attendance, alternative loan programs can close that gap.

ALTERNATIVE LOAN PROGRAMS

- The iPlan is an optional arrangement to make educational payments more affordable by spreading payments over a selected number of monthly installments instead of making one payment each semester. iPlan begins in May; there is no need to have your financial aid award before setting up iPlan. Loyola iPlan benefits include:
  - Additional monthly installment options
  - Clear, step-by-step budgeting process
  - Streamlined account information

NEED-BASED LOANS

FEDERAL PERKINS LOANS
• The Federal Perkins Loan is a low-interest loan program. Awards are based on financial need as demonstrated by information provided on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and on the availability of funds.
• Funding is limited; preference is given to students with exceptional need who have met Loyola University Chicago's March 1 priority application deadline.
• Award criteria may change from year to year based on available funding.

FEDERAL DIRECT STAFFORD LOANS
• Submission of a FAFSA is required.
• A 1.068 percent origination fee is deducted from each payment of the loan to Loyola.
• Loans require a minimum of two disbursements during the enrollment period unless the recipient will be enrolled for only one term.

NURSING STUDENT LOANS
• Loans are made to full-time undergraduate nursing students pursuing a BSN who demonstrate financial need as determined by information provided on the FAFSA.
• Funding is limited; preference is given to students with exceptional need.
• Students who transfer out of the School of Nursing are no longer eligible for this loan.

LOAN PROCESSING
First-time borrowers of federal loans at Loyola must fulfill several requirements before loan money will be paid to Loyola. Unless noted, these steps need to be fulfilled only once, though students who receive both Federal Direct Stafford Loans and Federal Perkins Loans must complete entrance counseling and promissory notes for each loan. The following requirements apply to Federal Perkins Loans, Nursing Student Loans, and Federal Direct Stafford Loans.

FEDERAL DIRECT LOANS
Loyola University Chicago has joined the Federal Direct Student Loan Program (FDLP) for undergraduate, graduate, and professional school student borrowing. Under the FDLP, students will work with the Financial Aid Office to obtain loans from the Federal Government instead of private banks and credit unions. Students borrowing Federal Direct Stafford Loans will have the same terms and conditions and interest rates as loans borrowed under the Federal Family Education Loan Program (FFEL). The FDLP also offers more repayment plan choices and additional loan forgiveness options.
